

Mind Medicine Australia is delighted to launch its Philanthropy and Partnership program

We have a number of ways in which you can support our important mission in alleviating mental illness in Australia.

Please donate to Research, Public Education, the Asia-Pacific Centre of Excellence and Therapist Professional Development. Mind Medicine Australia relies on your tax-deductible donations to create a pathway for the regulatory approval of psychedelic medicines. You will join a network of compassionate change-makers and lateral thinkers creating a better state of mind for those in need. Choose a level of support that suits you.

You will receive our updates, be invited to our events, included in our Annual Reports and experience the joy of giving to help solve our increasing mental health crisis.

"I view the next five years as an absolutely golden window. There's an opportunity to use relatively small amounts of money to have billions of dollars of impact [in terms of helping people with mental illness] and to affect millions of lives... There just aren't that many opportunities that are so dramatically obvious... If you want to bend the arc of history, I think this is one of the best opportunities you will ever have." - Tim Ferriss
